

Among Coffee County Servicemen

GUY A. BYRD, Army Staff Sergeant, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Byrd, Route 1, Box 75 Enterprise, Alabama, participated in Operation AVACUCHO, a seven-month military training exercise held near Lima, Peru, December 6-8.

Sergeant Byrd and other members of the U. S. Army Forces Southern Command joined with troops from Argentina, Bolivia, Colombia, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela for the maneuvers. The exercise, which involved a combined force of about 7,000 men, was designed to give the participating nations experience in hemispheric defense cooperation. Peru, the host country, named the exercise to commemorate the 140th anniversary of the battle of Ayacucho, where Peruvian forces scored an important victory in their fight for independence from Spain.

Sergeant Byrd is regularly assigned as a squad leader in Company A of the 20th Infantry's 4th Battalion stationed at Fort Clayton, Canal Zone.

He entered the Army in 1957 and was stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, before arriving in the Canal Zone on this tour of duty in January 1961.

The sergeant was graduated in 1957 from Enterprise High School.

His wife, Edith, is with him in the Canal Zone. WILLIAM K. FREE, Airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Free of Kinston, Alabama, has been selected for technical training as a communications - electronics specialist at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Airman Free, who enlisted in the Air Force a short time ago, has just completed his basic military training. Schools at Lackland are part of the Air Training Command system which trains airmen and officers in the diverse skills required by the nation's aerospace force.

The airman, a 1964 graduate of Kinston High School, attended Auburn (Alabama) University.

CHARLES F. CARROLL, Staff Sergeant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Carroll of R.F.D. 1, New Brockton, Alabama, has arrived for duty at Gunter AFB, Alabama.

Sergeant Carroll, a refrigeration technician, previously served in Florida. His new unit is part of the Air Defense Command which defends the continental U. S. against enemy air attack. The sergeant is a graduate of New Brockton High School. His wife, is the owner Norma S. Jordan of Ictonia, Texas.

FARM BRIEFS

Farmers soon may be able to test the moisture content of hay in the field with the help of a new device developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Research Service.

Milk production in the United States probably will keep going up in 1965, but not enough to stop the slow consumption decline, predict economists.

Soybeans with a test weight of 56 pounds a bushel and not more than 13 per cent moisture, two per cent damage, one per cent foreign material and ten per cent splits are graded U. S. No. 1.

The idea of growing food without sun, climate and land may not be too unreasonable. According to a U. S. Department of Agriculture food products expert, enzymes are now being used to produce protein raw material in a closed system. By using flavor and color additives, this protein may be served as authentic-looking beef.

Try dusting and waxing furniture with a cloth in each hand. You'll find the job goes much faster.

VOLUNTEERS ANSWER FIRE CALL AT SERVICE STATION

The Elba Volunteer Fire Department answered a fire alarm call Saturday night from Jack Padgett's Service Station, according to Fire Chief Lloyd Driggers.

The fire was started when an automobile backed into a light pole causing the electric lines to short out. The insulation on the wire caught fire over gasoline tanks, creating danger of gas fire. The fire was extinguished with only minor damages to the wiring.

There were no other fires reported this week.

Recommendation Approved; Paul Brunson Appointed SBA Director

SPARKMAN, FOLEY, BRIEF BRUNSON-Senator John Sparkman, Senate Small Business Committee Chairman (left), and Small Business Administrator, Eugene F. Foley (right), brief newly appointed Regional SBA Director, Paul R. Brunson of Montgomery on the new job which he will handle from SBA's Birmingham office.

Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman announced this afternoon the appointment of Paul Rowe Brunson, 42, former executive officer of Alabama's Civil Defense Program, as Regional Director of the Small Business Administration's Birmingham Office.

Alabama's Democratic Senators had earlier recommended to National SBA Administrator Eugene Foley that Brunson receive the appointment. Brunson will be responsible for all SBA programs geared to small businessmen in Alabama and ten counties in Northwest Florida. These programs consist of financial assistance, help in obtaining government prime and sub-contracts, and management counseling and advice.

Sparkman pointed out that SBA has approved more than $45 million in business loans to small Alabama firms. In contract assistance, the Senators noted that SBA has been instrumental in the award of more than $3,000 prime government contracts valued at nearly $201 million to small Alabama firms. The agency co-operatively earmarks proposed government purchases for exclusive bid by small firms, and also assists in getting sub-contracts for little firms.

In addition, SBA's management assistance programs have been accelerated. With the installation of SCORE - the Service Corps of Retired Executives - small Alabama firms are being helped through major management roadblocks.

SCORE volunteers are retired officials who, through SBA, advise and counsel small business owners and managers.

Hill and Sparkman said that SBA's programs for small Alabama businesses will be stepped up under the direction of the Agency's new Regional Director, Paul Brunson.

Brunson, a long-time state career employee, holds bachelor and masters degrees from the University of Alabama.

He has been affiliated with the Civil Defense Department of Alabama for the past 10 years. He served as Assistant Director for 3-1/2 years, then was appointed Civil Defense executive which he obtained through the merit system's competitive examination.

Prior to joining the State's Civil Defense program he served as Coordinator of Trades and Industrial Education in the Dale County Senior High School, Ozark. He also served as secretary-manager of the Alabama Chamber of Commerce, and is a member of the VFW and the American Legion.

Brunson, married and the father of five children, was born and grew up in Elba and has lived in Montgomery since 1955.

He was a member of the Montgomery Junior Chamber of Commerce.
